Personalized advice

We have a wide database of statistic information by which we can advice you to:

- choose the contribution optimal level of the company relevant for the industry in which you activate, and for the company dimension;
- accurately estimate the eligible number of employees to whom you will provide access to the 7card service

Automated and easy management

7card is very easy to manage by the employer, and we help you throughout the collaboration period, from the users' registration process, up to a dedicated account manager for your company, and customer support for your colleagues that contact us directly.

Our ambition is such as no customer shall spend while working with us more than 30 minutes each month (we rather spend every extra minute together, by finding ideas for your colleagues' wellbeing).

Progressive additional discounts

You offer your colleagues a 7card subscription and pay a part of the subscription price, and we bring progressive additional discounts. This way, your colleagues reach the lowest possible price, and they come back to work healthier and more relaxed.

Dedicated account manager

You will have an account manager for your company and access to the events organized by us or by our partners.

Next steps

1

We set together the monthly fee for access to the 7card Program that the Company will pay, depending on the number of employees to whom it wants to provide access, and choose one of the 3 collaboration options:

- 1.The employee will bear the full subscription price
- 2.The company partially subsidizes the subscription price
- 3.The company fully subsidize the subscription price

Depending on the number of active subscribers and on the company contribution, we come with an additional discounts grid of the price, but also with a package of free additional benefits for subscribers (free trials).

2

We establish together the date of commencement of the contract, we draw up and sign the contract.

We offer you support throughout the collaboration period.

We have automated tools for the management of the 7card benefit that you can use with no additional charge but, what is more important than that, we have a team that helps you throughout the collaboration period: you will have a dedicated account manager for your team, and at the 7card customer support you will talk to the nicest and kindest people. 😊
